The screenshot shows the IBM Watson Assistant Lite interface. On the left, a sidebar lists various sections: Intents, Entities, Dialog, Options, Analytics, Content Catalog, and others. The 'Dialog' section is currently selected. In the main workspace, there's a list of existing nodes: '@movie:Aacharya', '@movie:Salaar', '@movie:(Most Eligible Batchler)', and '#Seats'. A new node is being created under the '@Region' node, indicated by a blue selection bar. The right side of the screen shows the configuration for this new node, including fields for 'Title' (labeled 'Select the number of seats') and 'Description (optional)' (labeled 'Add description'). Below these, a table allows setting values for different list labels, with the first entry being '1' for both the label and value. The top navigation bar shows the URL as eu-gb.assistant.watson.cloud.ibm.com/crn%3Av1%3Abluemix%3Apublic%3Aconversation%3Aeu-gb%3Aa%2Fb2871384a68146d1bfaf2d1086a3074a%3A123022df-9bf0-4ef3-a2fd-b84c9a788991%3A%... and the tabs 'IBM Watson Service Page' and 'IBM Watson Assistant'.

This screenshot shows the IBM Watson Assistant Lite interface for a bot named "MovieTicketBooking". The left sidebar contains navigation links for Intents, Entities, Dialog, Options, Analytics, Versions, and Content Catalog. The main workspace displays five intents: "Welcome", "greeting", "@movie:(Bheemla nayak)", "@movie:Setimaar", and "@movie:Pushpa". Each intent card shows its name, a preview of the response, and a status indicating 1 Response / 0 Context Set / Does not return. On the right, the "Try it out" panel shows a conversation history with entries like "#OTP", "Ticket details are sent to your mobile. Complete Payment and book the slot. Thank you for using our service.", "thank you", "#ThankYou", and a decorative image of balloons with the text "THANK YOU!". A message input field at the bottom says "Enter something to test your assistant". The system status bar at the bottom shows the date (20-10-2021), time (12:55), weather (33°C Cloudy), and language (ENG).
